CHARITY FOOTBALL GAME

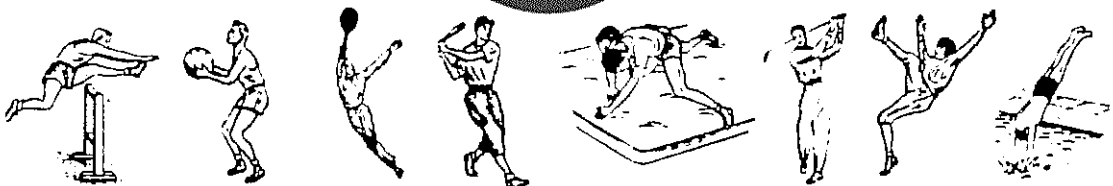

SATURDAY

Valley

What is a Football Player?

Between the innocence of boyhood and the dignity of man, we find a sturdy creature called a football player. Football players come in assorted weights, heights, jersey colors and numbers, but all football players have the same creed; to play every second of every minute of every period of every game to the best of their ability.

Football players are found everywhere—underneath, on top of, running around, jumping over, passing by, twisting from or diving through the enemy. Teammates kid them, officials penalize, alumni tolerate them and mothers worry about them. A football player is Courage in cleats, hope in a helmet, Pride in pads, and the best of Young Manhood in moleskins.

A football player likes game films, trips away from home, practice sessions without pads, hot showers, long runs, recovered fumbles, points after touchdowns, and the quiet satisfaction that comes from being part of a perfectly executed play. He is not much for wind sprints, sitting on the bench, after-game compliments, ankle wraps or calisthenics.

Nobody gets so much pleasure out of knocking down, hauling out or just plain bringing down the enemy. Nobody else can cram into one mind assignments for an end run, an off-tackle slant, a jump pass, a quarterback sneak, a dive play, punt protection, kick-off returns, a buck lateral, goal line stands, or a pitch out designed to result in a touchdown every time it is tried.

A football player is a wonderful creature—you can criticize him, but you can't discourage him. You can defeat his team but you can't make him quit. You can get him out of a game, but you can't get him out of football. He may not be an All-American, but he is an example of the American way. He is judged, not for his race, not for his religion, not for his social standing or not for his finances, but by the democratic yardstick of how well he blocks, tackles and sacrifices individual glory for the over-all success of his team.

The O.V.A.C. Story

After a two-year absence, one of the Ohio Valley's top sports attractions is back.

It's the Ohio Valley All-Star Football game and it is being played this year at Martins Ferry Stadium for the first time under the auspices of the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference.

The OVAC, after more than three years of effort, was finally able to obtain official sanction from the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Previously, the game was never played under NCAA sanction. In the beginning, before the NCAA imposed a rule prohibiting football players who earned scholarships to NCAA from playing in post-season games unless they were sanctioned, the Valley All-Star game drew all of the top players from the Ohio Valley.

However, once the NCAA imposed this rule, much of the game's luster also left. Many of the top-name players were unable to compete.

The game was then under the sponsorship of the Booster Club Associations of Eastern Ohio and the West Virginia Northern Panhandle.

Despite the loss of this talent, the booster club associations, who tried, but failed to get NCAA sanction, continued holding the mid-summer grid classic until fan appeal waned to a point where they could no longer hold the production.

In addition, the Stone and Thomas Queen of Queens pageant, always a crowd-pleaser, was discontinued.

In an effort to counter these setbacks, the boosters tried to hold the game in late spring before the high school stars graduated. The NCAA does not have jurisdiction over a football player with the NCAA scholarship until he graduates.

However, football in late May or early June didn't appeal to the fans. Thus, the game was discontinued after 1969.

Down through the years, the game had many innovations. For example, college coaches at times were obtained to coach the respective squads. Some of the country's top name coaches guided the valley all-stars.

During one period, both Ohio and West Virginia expanded their areas to obtain more talent. This added much more glamour to the game, but after a couple years, it was decided that the game belonged to Ohio Valley boys and once again it was restricted to local talent.

Despite the many problems encountered in sponsoring such a game, the boosters more often than not presented a top-notch spectacle. The list of outstanding gridgers who appeared in the all-star game is endless.

Now, the OVAC is hoping to continue this tradition. Unlike the boosters, the OVAC has made the game, in accordance with NCAA rules, a benefit game. All proceeds, after expenses, will be used to establish scholarships at the three local colleges, West Liberty, Wheeling and Steubenville. Another beneficiary of the game will be the Dapper Dan Club of the Upper Ohio Valley, which is strictly a charitable organization.

Like any production, the OVAC has encountered some problems in presenting this first annual event.

For example, the original site was Wheeling Stadium. Despite the concern of Ohio County school officials, they were forced to tell the OVAC it could not prepare the stadium in time for the game because of heavy damage to the stadium on Wheeling Island sustained in the recent flood.

Consequently, the game was moved to Martins Ferry Stadium and OVAC officials are grateful for the cooperation they have received from Ferry school officials. Originally, the game was planned for Friday night, Aug. 11, but to avoid conflict with the Ohio North-South All-Star game being played in Canton the same night, the OVAC moved its game to Saturday, August 12.

Since the first game was played in 1940, there have been a total of 26 valley all-star games. For the record, Ohio holds a 15-11 edge.

Games were not played in 1943, '44 and '45 because of World War II. The game was also discontinued in 1963 when Ohio and West Virginia held separate all-star encounters.

Oddly enough, there has never been a tie game in the series. Ohio has been shutout nine times, while West Virginia was blanked on seven occasions. Ohio's biggest margin of victory was 27-0 in 1956. West Virginia's most lopsided win was 18-0 in 1967.

The closest margin was victory was one-point as the two clubs exchanged 7-6 decision in 1959 and 1960. In 1964, Ohio won by the unusual score of 2-0, while the 1957 game saw Ohio win 14-13.

Overall, Ohio has scored 278 points in the previous all-star games, to 200 for West Virginia.

TONIGHTS ENTERTAINMENT

Prior to this All-Star game, the musical entertainment will be provided by two outstanding high school bands. We are pleased to welcome the Marching Tigers from Shadyside High School, Shadyside, Ohio; and the Brooke Bruins High School from Brooke County, West Virginia.

We feel sure that you will enjoy the music they will provide in pre-game, half-time and after game ceremonies.

Director of Shadyside High School Band
Mr. Raymond Ponzo
The Tigers will represent the Ohio Squad.

Director of Brooke High School Band
Mr. Vernon Snyder
The Bruins will represent the W. Va. Squad.

The color guard for tonight's contest is the American Legion Post 38, Martins Ferry, Ohio. We are most grateful for these men, for taking part in the first OVAC All - Star Charity Football game.

WHAT DOES A FATHER SAY TO HIS SON BEFORE HIS FIRST GAME?

This is your first game, son.
I hope you win.
I hope you win for your sake
not mine.
Because winning's nice.
It's a good feeling.
Like the whole world
is yours.
But it passes, this feeling.
And what lasts is what you've learned.

or whether you'll stay for
the long haul.

There's no telling how
you'll do.
You might be a hero
or you might be
absolutely nothing.
There's just no telling.
Too much depends on chance.
On how the ball bounces.

I'm not talking about the
game, son.
I'm talking about life.
But it's life that the game
is all about.
Just as I said.

Because every game is life.
And life is a game.
A serious one.
Dead serious.

But that's what you do
with serious things.
You do your best.

You take what comes.
You take what comes
and you run with it.

Winning is fun.
Sure.
But winning is not
the point.

Wanting to win is the
point.
Not giving up is the
point.
Never being satisfied
with what you've done
is the point.
Never letting up
is the point.
Never letting anyone down
is the point.

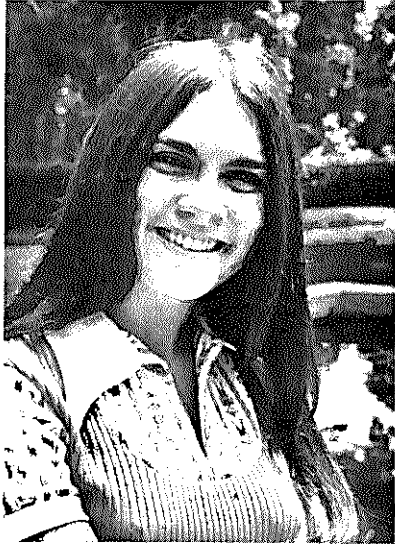

Play to win.
Sure.
But lose like
a champion.
Because it's not winning
that counts.
What counts is trying.
