1985-1986 OVAC President

A Word of Welcome to All . . .

On behalf of the OVAC, I want to sincerely welcome each and everyone of you to the annual OVAC Wrestling Tournament. Our warmest expressions of good luck are extended to each team and its supporters entering the great event.

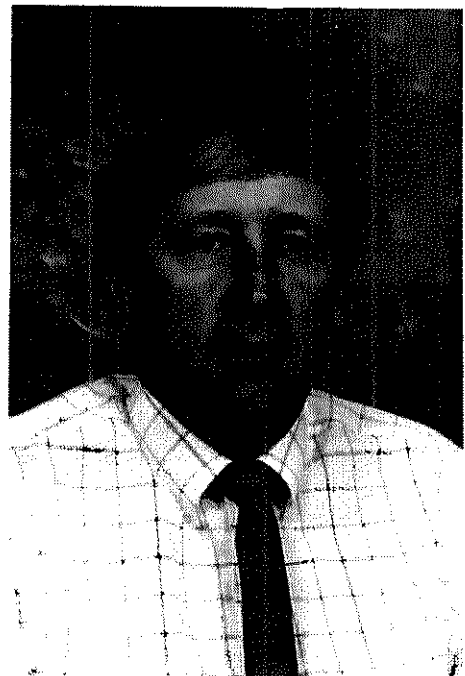

From its meager and uncertain start in 1943, the OVAC Wrestling Tournament has grown into one of the major sport attractions in the Ohio Valley.

We do not hesitate to say the tournament is actually a demonstration of high character, good conduct, under the rules of the games, and on ethical relationship with one's opponent.

As you cheer for your favorite team, may the highest standards of sportsmanship prevail throughout the tournament.

I am proud to act as Director for the annual OVAC Wrestling Tournament. It is our wish that your visit be pleasant and rewarding. Since only a few will reach the pinnacle of total victory, in our hearts you shall all be champion. May I extend a sincere congratulations to all the schools participating and wish you the very best of luck.

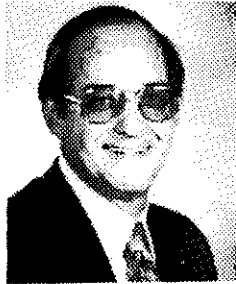

In closing, let us all work in the spirit of good sportsmanship and remember the motto of the conference is "Serving the Youth of the Upper Ohio Valley."

THE WRESTLER

by

Jeff Stolz

1969 Bellaire High School Wrestler

The sport of wrestling is one of the most traditional of sports. Its roots can be traced through time to the earliest locations of civilized man in the Tigris and Euphrates Valley. Realistically, man wrestled in one form or another even to the dawn of time as play, means of settling disputes, and just surviving. Unfortunately, the modern media has transformed the average person's concept of wrestling into the fantastic circus farce that receives so much attention today. This image cannot be any further from the truth.

By nature, wrestling is an individual activity. However, team competitions make it possible to acquire those skills necessary to any collective effort. Regardless, the effort necessary to shoulder the burden for the team is individual. For this reason, the sport is not for everyone. The man who isn't afraid to be different, denying himself certain "pleasures" and comforts others experience; the man who isn't afraid or unable to say no to himself or friends due to more important goals - this is the man with a better chance of success. This is a wrestler!

When discussing the individuality of wrestling, a key word in any discussion is motivation. Motivation, according to Thorndike and Barnhart, is the art or process of furnishing with an incentive or inducement to action. What might the inducement be to drive a man to deny and subject himself to what some may consider torture, force himself beyond normal human limits and participate in a basically thankless activity? There can be myriad answers to this question. I believe, however, that it centers around non-material gratification, around the core and essence of the man, his make-up, psyche, personality or, in other words, his individuality. Somewhere ensconced on the depths of his being, possibly attached genetically to the basic chromosomal make-up, is the drive to succeed.

This drive to succeed is not enough, however. Vast numbers, possibly all people, wish to succeed. They, however, lack the ability to convert desire to reality. The wrestler has this ability. He realizes that success is not a haphazard quality. He realizes that success is intricately tied to a four-lettered word - W O R K!

This doctrine of work is the basic tenet of the wrestling practice. Every moment in the practice room is filled, for this reason, with activity. These activities are not simply to fill the time. They are designed to specifically improve cardiovascular condition, agility, quickness, strength, endurance, and skills or wrestling; i.e., takedowns, escapes, reversals, near falls, and falls. Obviously this schedule is one which places great demand on the participant. The practice is grueling! This eliminates the casual participant, separating the wheat from the chaff. The men which remain are a breed apart, with a keen awareness of the formula for success and their role.

With regard to practices, a certain mental image has proliferated through the years due to certain techniques employed by wrestlers. It was accepted, and even expected, that weight loss was necessary to wrestler. I mentioned denial earlier but should clarify this point. This denial is in relationship to substances that are detrimental to performance such as liquor, drugs and unhealthy foods. The idea that the body is a temple holds more meaning for the wrestler than any other athlete. Granted, there will be a weight loss if I, as a coach, have structured practice demands that challenge. A weight loss of this nature, without starvation, enhances those qualities mentioned before and compliments success. Modern wrestling theorists and technicians do not advocate starvations, dehydration, bulimia, etc.

Two final points need to be addressed before closing. They are acceptance and fun in wrestling. Part of the non-acceptance of wrestling stems from misconceptions of wrestling mentioned previously. I feel it is due to one other point. Wrestling in the United States is still in its infant stages. Where the other major sports have celebrated 75 - 100 years of competition, wrestling is more contemporary. A history of and catalog of names and events needs to be built. We are in the process of doing this now. Television and the media are now helping instead of hindering this effort. Who among us is unfamiliar with Dan Gable and the Iowa collegiate dynasty or Jeff Blatnik?

As far as fun goes with regards to wrestling, this is debatable. Possibly, the enjoyment for wrestler is not in the normal sense. How can the hardships and hard work the wrestler subjects himself to be fun? There has to be some pleasure or he would lose interest. His enjoyment may again be another factor which sets him apart. He enjoys hard work, contact, and aggressive play. Or rather, he may not be searching for fun. He may be looking for something else and does not participate for fun. His fun is in winning and realizes there is no enjoyment other than victory.

I hope this expose' has served to enlighten those of you who are searching for reasons that will lead you to awareness of wrestlers and their chosen sport. I have become more cognizant of my own preferences by setting them down in ink for you. So the next time a young man, possibly your son, expresses his desire to wrestle, encourage them to do so. Make him aware of the cost and the rewards. He will be a better man for doing it.

"A Man Who is Dedicated To Ohio Valley Wrestling"

Today it is my extreme pleasure to spotlight – Steve Kish – a personal friend and Ohio Valley's most "sincere" wrestling personality!

Steve Kish was introduced to the sport of wrestling at Bridgeport High School, where he was a three-year star performer. After college, he served as head wrestling coach at Martins Ferry High School for seven years (1969 to 1976). Under Steve's tutelage, the "Purple Riders" were capable of beating anybody at anytime, and were highly regarded throughout the Valley. In 1973, his squad won the District Championship and Steve Kish was voted the "District Coach of the Year" in 1974.

As principal of Bellaire High School for the past eight years, Steve Kish has been very involved with the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference. As a matter of fact, Kish was president of this gigantic organization in 1984. Likewise, Steve Kish is devoted to his "Big Red" students; you ought to see his performances at pep rallies before their games with arch-rival Martins Ferry High!

Now the most significant contribution Steve Kish has made to Ohio Valley wrestling is certainly in the area of officiating. Over the last thirteen years, Kish has been selected to referee many major mat events, including 9 OVAC Tournaments, 4 Ohio State Championships, and 3 West Virginia. Steve is also the president of the Ohio Valley Officials Association, which he has served since 1977.

Steve Kish has had to make some very "gutsy" calls throughout the years, and he has done so promptly and fairly. Yes, I can honestly say that I have never met a man of higher integrity than Steve Kish. We can all take pride in knowing that Mr. Steve Kish, Jr. is an integral part of Ohio Valley wrestling!

BILL BARNHILL "A Friend Of OVAC Wrestling"

With the selection of a new Wheeling Civic Center Manager, OVAC Wrestling enthusiasts were anxious to learn of the new manager's feelings in reference to the mat sport. Well, their prayers were answered when Bill Barnhill accepted the position as the new Wheeling Civic Center Manager.

Bill Barnhill is an individual with many talents. Bill has degrees in History, Law, and Business Administration. Furthermore, Mr. Barnhill was an outstanding athlete (basketball and baseball) in high school and college, and has always had a love for sports in general.

Bill Barnhill has now trained his sights on assisting Ron Mauck and the OVAC Wrestling Committee in creating the best tournament ever. Barnhill's expert abilities in organization and administration have come in handy preparing for this year's Spectacular OVAC Wrestling Tourney.

Mr. Barnhill has proven to be a true "supporter" of wrestling in the Ohio Valley. Just like all of us who have given of ourselves to promote OVAC Wrestling, Bill Barnhill has devoted both time and energy to support the mat sport — and has unselfishly shared his wisdom with all tournament officials.

Again, thanks Bill Barnhill, for being a "friend" of wrestling in the area. We, the OVAC Wrestling Committee, are very pleased to have you as part of our team!! Welcome Aboard!!
