
10th ANNUAL OVAC BASKETBALL CLASSIC

ST. JOHN ARENA
JUNE 13, 1987

WELCOME

Welcome to the 1987 Ohio Valley Athletic Conference All-Star Charity Basketball Classic. These games are a showcase of the OVAC's boys' and girls' talents. This year's game, like the nine that preceded it, promise to spotlight some excellent basketball abilities.

Today's athletes come from all corners of the OVAC to feature their talents one last time for area fans. These fine individuals have demonstrated their talents, abilities, and sportsmanship throughout their high school careers. The OVAC is proud to recognize these All-Star players and their All-Star coaches for their dedication, hard work, and commitment. We also salute their families, coaches, and communities who have supported their efforts. We hope that you will enjoy cheering for your favorite players, and, in general, have a great day of basketball with the stars.

A special thank you must go to the fine people at St. John Arena who are hosts for this year's basketball classic.

Sincerely,
Clyde DiAngelo
Steubenville Central
Catholic High School
OVAC Basketball Classic
Director

★ THANKS ★

THE OVAC BASKETBALL COMMITTEE WOULD LIKE TO EXTEND HEARTFELT THANKS TO THE FOLLOWING INDIVIDUALS WHO MAKE THE CLASSIC AN OUTSTANDING "ALL-STAR" BASKETBALL SHOWCASE.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO FAIL

You've failed many times, although you may not remember.
 You fell down the first time you tried to walk. You almost drowned the first time you tried to swim, didn't you? Did you hit the ball the first time you swung a bat? Heavy hitters, the ones who hit the most home
 runs, also strike out a lot.
 R. H. Macy failed seven times before his store in New York caught on. English novelist
 John Creasey got 753 rejection slips before he published 564
 books. Babe Ruth struck out
 1,330 times, but he also hit
 714 home runs. Don't worry about failure. Worry about the chances you miss when you don't even try.

GOOD LUCK

RULES

This game is sanctioned by the West Virginia Secondary School Commission, the Ohio High School Athletic Association, and the National Collegiate Association, and will be played under the following special rules:

1. Each game will consist of four eight-minute quarters.
2. Zone presses may be used, but must end after the first trap past half court.
3. Man-to-man defense must be played in the normal attack area.

4. Each player must have accumulated his third foul before being disqualified.
5. All players must be on the court for the entire game unless the player is injured.
6. Dunking will be permitted.

THE DIFFERENCE WINNERS AND LOSERS

inner says, "Let's find out"; a loser says, "nobody knows."

inner makes a mistake, he says, "I was wrong"; when a loser makes a mistake, he says, "It wasn't my fault."

inner credits his "good luck" for winning – even though it isn't good luck; a loser blames his "bad luck" for losing – even though it isn't bad luck.

inner knows how and when to say "Yes" and "No"; a loser says, "Yes, but" and "Perhaps not" at the wrong times, for the wrong reasons.

inner isn't nearly as afraid of losing as a loser is secretly afraid of winning.

inner works harder than a loser, and has more time; a loser is always "too busy" to do what is necessary.

inner goes THROUGH a problem; a loser goes AROUND it, and never gets past it.

inner makes commitments; a loser makes promises.

inner shows he's sorry by making up for it; a loser says "I'm sorry," but does the same thing the next time.

inner knows what to fight for, and what to compromise on; a loser compromises on what he shouldn't, and fights for what isn't worthwhile fighting about.

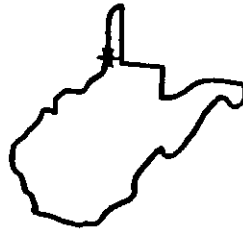

inner says, "I'm good, but not as good as I ought to be"; a loser says, "I'm not as bad as a lot of other people."

inner listens; a loser just waits until it's his turn to talk.

inner would rather be admired than liked, although he would prefer both, a loser would rather be liked than admired, and is even willing to pay the price of mild contempt for it.

THE MEN ON THE BENCH

It takes more than five players to make a winning team. The starting five may win a game, it takes the whole team to win the championship—to go all the way. The team is really like an iceberg. You see the starting five, but underneath it all is that big, wide, strong base—the rest of the team. This is the part of the team that builds the character of a lasting winner. The more dedicated the man on the bench, the harder he works, the more he pushes and strengthens the starting player—the higher he pushes this iceberg out of the water—the bigger it gets—the better the team. If he quits, doesn't give his all, or becomes complacent in his position, he erodes that strong base and erodes the character of the team. He contributes to the error in a tense, one point game, he is partly to blame for that mental lapse with four minutes to play in the big rivalry, he undermines the total effort necessary for the team to come back from a ten point deficit in a championship game. And yet this player on the bench must be there—watching, waiting, and hoping—sometimes agonizingly—for that chance to use his special skill to better the team effort—to make the base of the iceberg stronger—to help build the character of the team. Yes, agonizingly because he knows there is a chance he won't play because he may be the smallest man waiting to break open a press or may be the big man called in an instant to shut down the unusually big center who is hurting the team inside. He may even be the man that's hurt, but working twice as hard to be physically fit in time to play in the playoffs. He may be the man on the bench who demonstrates to the fans that this team really has character from the bench to the basket. But even more important he may be the whole bench that the player looks to late in the game when he is hurting, out of breath, burning inside for that spirit, that push, and that enthusiasm, and that love necessary to make a big play and win the game for the whole team.

When the game is over, when the season ends and all the fans and sports writers are talking about the top of the iceberg, the stars and heroes, the players will know that the real winner is the team, the whole iceberg, especially the base—the men on the bench who build the character to make the team a lasting winner.

IT'S ALL IN A STATE OF MIND

If you think that you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you won't;
If you like to win, but don't think you can,
It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost;
For out in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in a state of mind.

For many a game is lost
Ere even a play is run;
And many a coward fails
Ere even his work is begun.

Think big and your deeds will grow;
Think small and you'll fall behind;
Think that you CAN and you WILL:
It's all in a state of mind.

If you think you are out-classed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But sooner or later, the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

BE PROUD OF THE THINGS THAT YOU ARE Garnett Ann Schultz

Always be proud of what you are,
Whatever that might be,
The job that you do, however small,
So all of the world might see.

Give it your best and make it your own—
Have faith in your dream come true.
Lend a part of yourself in your every plan
In all that you ever do.

Always be proud of what you've been,
Be sure that you've lived life well.
Be proud of the hopes that is in your heart,
Your story that life will tell.

Walk through each day with your head held
And your eyes on that faraway star.
Trust in tomorrow and surely you'll find
It's nice to be just what you are.

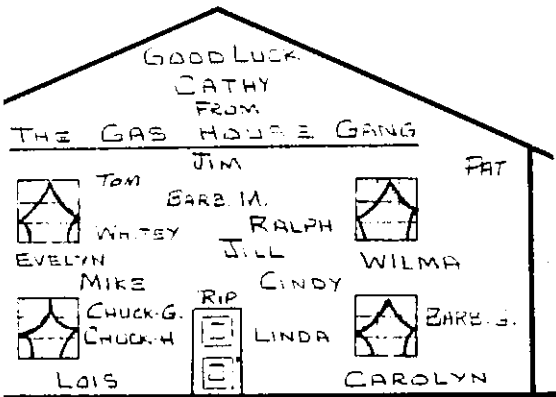

Always be sure and you'll never fail
Your future so sparkling and bright.
Save up a smile for the dark dreary days—
Success ever there in your sight.

Give God your hand and trust in His way,
No matter how near or how far.
Travel your road and in all that you do . . .
Be proud of the things that you are.

WHAT ARE YOU WORTH TO THE TEAM?

A father had three sons, and they all worked for the same man, a dealer in furs. One day the father went down to talk to the president of the company, an old boyhood friend. He went into the office and said, "Jim, my three boys all work for you and I appreciate your giving them positions. I have a question that's bothering me. You pay one of them $200 a month, one of them $300 a month, and one of them $500. Why?"

The president leaned back in his chair and was silent for a few minutes. Then his face brightened as he answered, "Well, maybe I can show you why right this minute. Have you got a while that you can stay here?"

"I can stay all day," the father said.

"Well, you might have to stay all day. Make yourself at home."

He picked up the telephone and called one of the boys, the $200 boy. "I understand the Ontario has just docked at the wharf, loaded with furs. Please go down there and see what cargo she's carrying and let me know." About three minutes later the president's telephone rang, and the young fellow said, "I didn't even have to go down there to get the information. I telephoned down. They have 1500 seals." The president said, "Thank you."

He buzzed the next boy, the $300 boy and said, "The Ontario has just docked. Will you please go down and see what she has on board and let me know at your earliest convenience?" About an hour later, the telephone rang and he said, "I just went down and checked the Ontario. She's got 1500 seals on board."

He rang the third boy, the $500 boy. He said, "The Ontario has docked," and he told him the same story and made the same request. The boy came back four hours later and came right on in to the president's office. He said, "Well, she had 1500 seals on board and all are in good shape. I bought them for $5 a piece and filled that order we had from one of our customers. He bought all of them from us at $7 a piece. The Ontario also had 500 fox pelts. Of course, we don't handle red fox, but I knew who wanted them, so I called him long distance and made a sale. The deal will net us about $4000. There were also thirty-nine minks on board. I went in and examined them. They are beautiful; they are the finest. Since you like to handle the mink trade yourself, I took an option on them for an hour so I could report to you."

The president said, "Thank you," and the young man left. Jim asked the father, "Is your question answered?"

"Yes," replied the father, "one of the boys didn't even obey you, the other went only halfway, but one of them gave you everything he had."

FRANK BAXTER

The Ohio Valley Athletic Conference is honoring one of the giants of high school basketball coaching...retired mentor Frank Baxter of Bridgeport. He is the recipient of this year's Achievement Award presented in conjunction with the 10th OVAC Classic.

A lifelong resident of Bridgeport, Baxter has spent all but one year of his life in teaching-coaching-administrative care at his alma mater. During the 19 seasons he served as head basketball coach of the Bulldogs, Baxter compiled a 269-128 record and guided his teams to numerous championships.

"It is gratifying anytime you are honored by your peers," said Baxter, who recently completed his 24th year as Assistant Director at Bridgeport High, where he has continued his physical education instruction following his retirement from coaching.

He was a three-year standout as a center-linebacker in football at Bridgeport where he also excelled in basketball, playing for three years and averaging a 24 points a game as a senior.

After graduating, he joined the U.S. Army and served three years. While based in Innsbruck, Austria, he played football and basketball for the Army post team. He earned a degree from West Liberty State College where he played football for three years and led the team in track twice. Upon earning his degree in 1956, Baxter was hired as a teacher-coach in football and basketball at Bridgeport High. After one year, he moved to Bridgeport. After several years as an assistant, he was elevated to the head coach of the varsity team. He has experienced numerous winning seasons.

His 1966 team advanced to the Regional finals before losing, and his 1969 team advanced to the State tourney where it defeated Fort Recovery in the semifinals before losing to Arcanum in the title game.

His teams won three Class AA Sectional titles and five Class A Sectional crowns. He produced Class A Championship teams in 1963, 1966, 1972, and 1974. When his teams won Class AA Sectional titles during a period when there were just two classes in Ohio, and the Bulldogs turned in some appearances against such large schools as Zanesville and New Philadelphia in District competition.

Baxter had the distinction of being the initial recipient of the OVAC Coach-of-the-Year Award in 1969. He was named Ohio Class A Coach-of-the-Year by UPI in 1966 and also was accorded Eastern and Eastern District Coach-of-the-Year recognition. He was twice honored by the Dapper Dan Club of Upper Ohio Valley.

Baxter also served as football assistant for about a decade under four coaches: Gene Remenick, George Kovalick, Don Miller, and Joe Ault. Coach Baxter, who earned his Master's Degree from the University of Dayton, is married to the former Mary Kyser of Martins Ferry. They have two grown-up children, Jeff and Cheryl Ann, and two grandchildren, Scott and Justin.
