The Samuel A. Mumley Memorial Basketball Classic

In 1977, three veteran Ohio Valley basketball coaches decided that the concept of a high school All-Star game similar to the highly successful football contest, would be a practical idea. And so, Earl Haberfield of Wintersville, "Herk" Lazasz of Tiltonsville, and Bobby Dawson of Morgantown sat down and drew up the format of what would become the OVAC Basketball Classic.

Earl Haberfield was chosen as the game's first director. The committee enlisted the support of Ogden News-Paper to help underwrite the game and booked the Wheeling Center for the location hoping to pack the house. However, the only problem was that the game had to be held in June. Due to the rules of the West Virginia Secondary Schools Activities Commission, Mountain State schools could not participate without losing their eligibility for sports. As the game was a novelty, the Classic did attract to see 1700 fans witness the Valley's finest, but the timing soon began to dwindle the interest of spectators.

Over the years, due to expenses and availability of the game was played at St. John Arena, Wheeling Jesuit High School, Bellaire High School, Wheeling Jesuit University, and Liverpool High School, and Buckeye Local High

Although the game always showcased some outstanding court performers, other problems surfaced. The Classic underwent several changes, and as the interest in the game became greater, the need to have two games for boys and two games for the girls became apparent. However, West Virginia schools being smaller in number, often difficulty finding enough quality players, while Ohio schools had more players than they needed.

Another change in the program came in 1982 when Haberfield left the area to coach in northern Ohio. Before that, however, the committee made a wise move in turning the directorship to Gene Ammirante of Bellaire. Under his leadership, the game became more organized and successful.

Ammirante ran the game until 1987 when, due to an increasing work load, he resigned the contest to Clyde DiAnubenville Catholic Central who guided the Classic for several years. The game was then directed by John Bobalik of Bellaire. After a one-year tenure, the game faced serious financial problems, as no one wanted to assume the directorship. Also, financial problems, the game more than ever needed leadership. With that in mind, only one man was obvious. Under his direction for the second time, the game underwent tremendous changes. First, the game was placed on strong financial footing.

The second change came in the form of strong support from the OVAC Executive Secretary, Sam Mumley. He took it upon himself, with the assistance of Vince change the ruling, allowing the game to be played soon after the completion of the regular basketball season. After many trips to Charleston and hours of phone conversations and lobbying, the game was approved. Starting with the 1992 contest, the game would be moved to April.

Because of his dedication to the Conference and his unselfish support of the Classic, the committee decided to change the name of the Classic to the Samuel A. Mumley Memorial Basketball Classic.

The format was changed to one boys' game and one girls' game and a Conference cheering competition was added. Through the hard work and efforts, not to mention the enthusiasm of Linda Alexander of Paden City, the cheering clinic was a success from the first year. Although all 44 OVAC schools chose not to participate, the Championship brought hundreds of cheerleaders before the Valley fans to show them that cheering was a bona fide sport also.

With the 1994 Classic, two more changes took place. First, Tom Rataiczak of Bellaire High School, who had served as program director for fifteen years, took over as Game Director. With this came the inception of a coaches' clinic held prior to the game and a luncheon for all the players and their parents. One of the best decisions made was moving the game to the campus of Wheeling Jesuit College and their beautiful facilities. The game was held there for seven years. This change not only established a home for the Classic, but allowed its players and cheerleaders to enjoy a major college experience without leaving the Valley.

The 1995 Classic saw three more adjustments. First, the coaches' clinic was dropped, as its timing ran too close to the NCAA Tournament and the availability of quality college coaches. Second, it was decided to begin honoring a coach who pioneered in the establishment of girls' basketball as a sport. The third reason was perhaps the most noticeable. After three years, the cheerleading advisors decided to branch out on their own and move their competition to November.

In 1997, reaching its twentieth anniversary, the advent of a reunion team was created. Thirty plus athletes from the original all-star game returned to initiate an annual 20th year reunion.

A big change in 1998 was the game being broadcast on Channel 7 live TV. The live broadcast continued through 2003. Unfortunately, the game will not be on TV this year.

Even though the All-Star game has undergone and is still undergoing change, one fact remains constant: it continues to showcase the finest basketball talent the Ohio Valley has to offer.

Ohio University Eastern's Ney Center now offers us a beautiful facility in Eastern Ohio to carry on the tradition. We welcome you today, and hope you enjoy the contests. 60 of Ohio and West Virginia's best senior basketball players of the class of 2006 are ready to showcase their talent today.

Making it all happen....

Fast Track

Wheeling Hospital

Fast Track is an emergency care service that allows non-critical cases to be treated in a more expedient way. The decision of whether to route a patient to Fast Track or to the Emergency Center is made by the medical staff when the patient enters the door. Critical cases can then receive the priority care they require without having the less serious cases endure a long wait for treatment.

Fast Track hours are Saturday,
Sunday, and Monday from Noon to 11:00pm Tuesday through Friday from 4:00pm to 11:00pm
