What makes them more unique is the fact that six of the staff members control all major decisions, not the devisors. The group pictured here meet every Monday to determine workloads, assignments, policy, and other important matters. Everyone, including the advisor, has but one vote, and the decisions are final.

They've been featured in national conventions at Kansas

Some schools call it a yearbook staff, others refer to it as a newspaper staff, but at Bellaire High School, BHS PUBLICATIONS is a giant.

Composed of only 40 students, the staff produces the typical yearbook and newspaper, itses stop. Both productions are done 100% camera-ready, with all work being prepared for the printer at the school.
