318-126 record and four Presidents' Athletic Conference championships to go with four NCAA Tournament berths. That success landed Harris into the school's Hall of Fame

Harris elevated St. Vincent basketball to the point where the Bearcats were perennial winners. However, the former Ohio University Eastern hoopster harbored bigger dreams, resulting in his decision to leave the Benedectine Monk-run school after last season and Harris accepted the head men's coaching position at St. Thomas University in Miami Gardens, Fl., in March. St. Thomas is an NAIA D-II institution.

"I have a dream to be a D-I coach like Skip Prosser, Jim O'Brien and the Wojcik brothers for example. The Ohio Valley produces good coaches," Harris said. "I am not in their category but that is my goal. To try and make that happen, I knew I had to go to a different part of the country. This is the right place.

"St. Thomas is the fastest growing university in Florida and one of the fastest in the nation. It is fairly new and has great facilities. It was established in 1963," he added. "We have just started a football program here and we have a law school. St. Thomas is a diamond in the rough."

Harris, age 49, has wasted no time weaving his coaching expertise in the Sunshine State. St. Thomas won just 10 games total last season. The Bobcats head into weekend play with an 11-4 record.

"When I got the job, I had about only 30 days to recruit. I was fortunate that there were some good remaining players," Harris said. "I was also able to attract four D-I transfers, including one from the University of Minnesota. Since we are NAIA D-II we offer scholarships. That wasn't the case at St. Vincent

"The St. Thomas administration and president have been very supportive. We are in one of the top small-college conferences (The Sun Conference) in the country," he continued. "It is like the old West Virginia Conference. It's a grind every night and tough to win on the road.

St. Thomas has 10 more regular-season games in that grind. Harris is confident his charges will come through in fine fashion.

"I think our guys are optimistic. I am not a patient guy. I did not come here to finish second," the 1989 Wheeling Park grad said. 'We want to knock on the door of the upper echelon in our conference and make them uncomfortable, and we have. We want to finish in the top three of our conference and make the national tournament."

Harris, who also serves as assistant athletic director at St. Thomas, was twice named the Presidents' Athletic Coach of the Year while at Saint Vincent: 2015 and 2019.

"I spent 23 years in Wheeling and 24 in Latrobe, Pa. I feel the same about both...places where I found myself as a coach and where I found my moral compass," Harris said. "St. Vincent was nothing but wonderful. My relations with the Benedictine Monks was outstanding. I was around so many outstanding people. It was not hard to be successful."

BUBBA'S BITS

THE NFL is down to its final four. I like the Chiefs and 49ers to punch their Super Bowl tickets today. Should the Chiefs and Packers both prevail, it would be a rematch of Super Bowl I, won by Green Bay, 35-10, in the Los Angeles Coliseum. That Super Bowl carried some interesting Ohio Valley flavor. Bob Brown was a starting defensive lineman for the Packers. Andy Rice was a starting de-fensive lineman for the Chiefs. Before they landed in the NFL, both were players for the Wheeling Ironmen. Brown recorded a sack in that first Super Bowl. He enjoyed an 11-year NFL career, making the Pro Bowl in 1972. Rice, meanwhile, played eight years in the JOE BURROW may have just completed the greatest season ever by a college football player. The Ohio State transfer rewrote the SEC and NCAA passing record books, won the Heisman Trophy and carried LSU to a perfect 15-0 national championship season while setting himself up to be the No. 1 pick in the NFL Draft this April. It's a shame, however, he will find himself in a Cincinnati Bengals' uniform next season.

THE AUSTRALIAN Tennis Open unfolds today. My champion picks are Naomi Osaka and Novak Djokovic.

IT WAS refreshing to see Major League Baseball come down hard on the Houston Astros. The penalties were stiff and cost two people their jobs, but the punishment was justified. There is no room for cheating in baseball, or in any other sport.

St. C. fends off Bellaire

By DONNIE YEAGER JR. For The Times Leader

ST. CLAIRSVILLE - St. Clairsville has not lost to Bellaire in a while on the hardwood. To be more specific, it's 21 games and in a little less than a 10-year span. The Devils fought off a slow start and a feisty effort from the Big Reds en route to a hard earned 70-62 victory for number 22 in a row.

"It was a good effort. They worked hard, they tried hard and tried to gut one out, but you know, like I always tell them, you are supposed to play hard. You don't get extra points for playing hard, you are supposed to. You don't get medals for trying, you get medals for winning," stated Bellaire coach J.R. Battista following the contest. "We are close. Sooner or later we are going to break through and we are going to get one, but it wasn't tonight. That's a credit to St.C. They made plays. They made some tough treys, they made some guarded treys, it spread it out on us and we just couldn't get back into it."

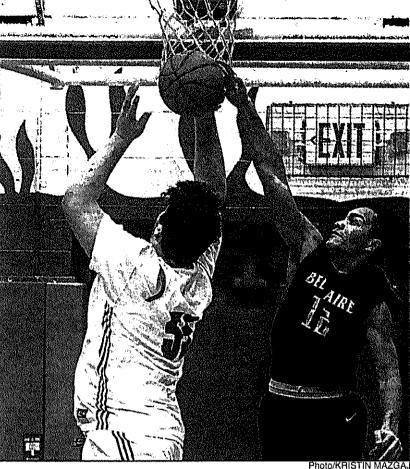

In all, the Devils made seven,

3-pointers on the evening.

Battista continued "We made a good effort at the end, and we made a good run to try to get it down, but we needed another steal to make them nervous, but they made the foul shots and they made the plays to win.'

"Our energy wasn't great to start for whatever reason; big game tomorrow night, we've had some success with them (Bellaire) in the recent past, for whatever reason. We've got to understand that we're not good enough to just come out and float around. We got on them at the quarter break about our energy and effort and from that point on we were pretty solid in that sense, "noted Red Devils boss Ryan Clifford. "We made some game mistakes, but our energy and effort improved, and the score improved because of it. They (Bellaire) can score and we told them in the scouting report that they have scored against everybody, so you'd better concentrate on the defensive

The visitors held a definitive advantage in the first, as the Red Devils (9-4) struggled to find an offensive rhythm. Bellaire (2-12) thoroughly outworked the hosts in the first eight minutes, forcing four turnovers and out-rebounding St. C., 7-4. This accompanied by a pair of timely threes

WHEELING - A busy week closed in stellar fashion for Wheeling Park as the Patriots toppled Parkersburg South, 73-54, Saturday afternoon at The Palace on the Hill.

The wire-to-wire win marked the fourth game in six days for Coach Ryan Young's battle-tested charges. The state's No. 1-ranked Class AAA team is 13-1.

Parkersburg South fell to 2-10. Park put 20 points on the first-quarter scoreboard and were never seriously challenged the balance of the contest, getting scoring from seven different players.

"Offensively we were pretty efficient. We drove the ball well at times instead of settling for the 3. We found Bella (Abernathy) inside when we needed to," Young said.

WHEELING - There was elation. There were tears. There was history, both team-wise and individually, and there were memories made that will last forever.

The championship finals of the 67th edition of the annual OVAC Ron Mauck wrestling tournament had them all Saturday as its three-day stay inside WesBanco Arena came to an end with 14 individuals standing tall high atop the awards podium.

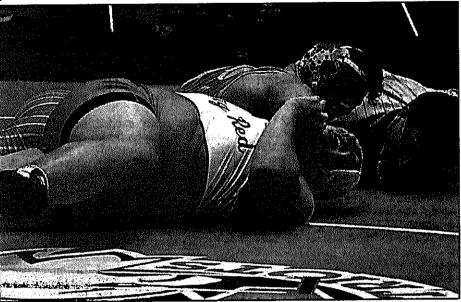

Seven local wrestlers captured champi-

Skaggs, the No. 2 seed, turned the tables

Pushing the issue early, the Red Devils junior led 4-1 after one period and was up 5-1 in the second before earning his championship with a pin in 3:53. It was Skaggs' fifth fall of the tournament.

"It's an awesome feeling. My grandparents couldn't be here tonight, so I was a little motivated to get it done on TV for them," Skaggs admitted. "It was a good weekend for me."

Kish, the top seed, was never threatened in the tournament as he posted a 6-0 shutout of University's Jace Stockett, who was seeded third. Prior to that, he had pinned his first four foes in less than two minutes.

"It feels good to attain one of my high school goals. Since I've been a freshman I've wanted to be on top, but I always fell short. Tonight I wasn't going to let that happen," Kish said after moving his record to 21-2.

"They're a tough team ... a premiere team," St. Clairsville head coach Joel Sansone said of Beaver Local, who won the Class 4A crown, 209-171, over the runnerup Red Devils. "I'm very proud of the way our guys wrestled this weekend. Win or lose they went out and battled.

"We had a really good semifinal round when we set a school record with four finalists out of four in the semis," he added.

MARTINS FERRY - Dave Reasbeck secured the "signature win" he was looking for Saturday afternoon.

Behind a 14-3 second-quarter scoring advantage and a staunch defensive effort, Reasbeck's Martins Ferry Purple Riders picked up their biggest victory of the season, holding off Shadyside, 38-33, in girls' basketball action inside Tolbert Gymnasium.

"We have some wins, but we didn't have any quality wins," Reasbeck explained outside a victorious Martins

"Winning the (Class) 3A is a big deal," Barnesville head coach Jayson Stephen mas said he was pleased with his team's said. "I don't go into the tournament looking for stuff like that. I focus on the individuals. We've got four placers this year. That's more than we've had for awhile.'

Shenandoah won the Class 1A/2A with 103.50 points. Southern Local was second with 82.5.

For Shelek, winning his title fulfilled a childhood dream.

'I've been dreaming about this my entire life. What a crazy experience this weekend has been," the Patriots fourth-seeded senior said after defeating St. Clairsville's Caden Stout, who was seeded sixth, by a 13-6 count.

"This was the hardest weight class in the OVAC Tournament. It's all about heart and what you have in here," he said while pounding on his chest. "That's why I'm the OVAC champion at my weight."

pressure applied to him when his younger brother, Nate, was pinned earlier in the 120-pound finals.

"It was tough to see him lose like that, but part of this is for him," he said of his title.

Wheeling Park head coach Brian Leggett was proud of both of his titlists.

"It's no secret that Andrew hit a slump there last month. He wrestled his way out of it with grit and determination. He got back into the (wrestling) room and worked his butt of to get back where he is," Leggett noted. "That shows a lot about his character. We knew he was capable of knocking off all the kids he did here. Proving it means a lot to him.

To earn his title, Shelek defeated the No. 5 (Steubenville's Tyler Muldrew), the No.1 (Cole McComas) who was a two-time champion and the No. 6 (Stout).

Taggart, the third seed, executed a 4-point move in the waning seconds of the first period and held on for a 5-1 victory over Parkersburg South's Nathan Ford, the fourth seed.

"Cody wrestled a really good tournament," Leggett noted. "He came out strong

"This sport is all about adversity and upsand-downs. For the most part, this tournament didn't go the way we thought it would, but we are stepping out of here with some champions, some good wins and some things we can improve upon," he said.

"We're excited for Logan. He had to take a little time off to come back and win this tournament," the Beavers coach added. "That's big for him mentally in moving forward to compete for a state title down the road.

Hall defeated future WVU teammate Brayden Roberts of Parkersburg South, 3-2. It was his third title and fourth finals appearance.

'We talked before the match and decided that whoever won would get first choice on beds," Hall said with a slight smile.

Parkersburg South got back on top of the tournament after a runnerup finish last winter. The Wood County Patriots held off Wheeling Park, 251-236. Beaver Local was third, Steubenville (178.5) fourth and St. Clairsville (171) fifth.

"Obviously, I am very proud of the kids and the team. They really stepped up this weekend," Parkersburg South head coach Shaun Smith praised. "It was a long, tough battle but they grinded it out and I can't say enough about how proud I am of them."

The St. C. girls left their mark and set new marks as Casadie DiBetta broke meet and pool records with a 58.91 in the butterfly, before breaking her own meet and pool records set last year with a 1:03.87 in the breaststroke.

Olivia Moyer, DiBetta, Kylie McKeegan and Brenna Planey also broke their own records from last year with a mark of 1:51.37 in the 200 medley relay.

Planey, McKeegan, Maggie Marody and DiBetta capped the record-breaking day by setting a new bar in the 400 relay with a time of 3:46.16.

"I am so proud of these kids," Banks said. "They came in here, swam incredibly well and exceeded my expectations. They broke school records, PR's and meet records. These kids never fail to impress me.
