

Dragons will be playing for a state championship.

Cameron's defense continued to dominate as it held Calhoun County to seven total field goals in a 44-28 victory in the Class A semifinals Thursday at the Charleston Coliseum.

The Dragons will face Tug Valley or Tucker County in the Class A title game Saturday with a 10 a.m. tipoff.

"I couldn't be more proud of the whole entire team," Pettit said. "They stuck to the game plan and it worked out. We're playing Saturday."

And the game plan was defense. After holding Madonna to eight field goals in the quarterfinals, the Dragons only allowed seven to the Red Devils.

Also the Red Devils' 28 total points was how much they scored in the first quarter in their quarterfinal matchup against River View.

"We knew they had two phenomenal guards that shoot the ball really well," Pettit said. "Our game plan was to force them left, getting in their face and not let them take outside shots. I couldn't ask for better defense from my guards. Lili Neely and Emma Whipkey played their hearts out. I couldn't ask for a better defensive effort from everybody."

And while the offense for Cameron's Kenzie Clutter drives to the hoop during Thursday's Class A state semifinal game against Calhoun County. Clutter scored 14 points in the Dragons' win.

Cameron started a little slow, it was freshman Kenzie Clutter who provided a spark for them in the first quarter.

After Calhoun County scored the first basket of the game, Clutter drilled two 3-pointers on consecutive possessions and the Dragons never trailed again.

Clutter finished the first quarter with 10 of the Dragons' 13 points and 14 overall.

"I was just shooting and they were going in," Clutter said. "I was feeling good."

While the Dragons were dealing with some foul trouble with Ashlynn VanTassell — who picked up her third foul with a minute to go in the first half — the Red Devils were dealing with a big one of their own.

Park Eliminated As Rally Falls Short

Morgantown girls basketball coach Jason White knows that his squad and Wheeling Park are quite familiar with each other and what type of style of play they like to run.

White also knew that even though his team had a double digit lead, that the Patriots were going to make a run.

That certainly was the case. After taking a 21-5 lead after the first quarter, Wheeling Park made a tremendous push for a comeback. However, the lead proved to be too big and the comeback fell just short as the Mohigans defeated the Patriots, 57-54 Thursday night in a West Virginia Class AAAA quarterfinal matchup at the Charleston Civic Center.

It was the fourth matchup between the two OVAC rivals with Morgantown winning three in a row.

The Mohigans will play Huntington today in the semifinals.

"Absolutely," White said about knowing that his large leads weren't going to last. "As a matter of fact we knew it so much that at the end of the third quarter when we sat down, I looked right in their eyes and said, 'We have a lead. Fourth quarter. What's coming.'"

"They all said, 'They're going to come trap. They're going to come pressure. They're going to come jump as soon as we cross half court.' And sure enough there it came. I thought early, even though we knew it was coming, we looked a little shell-shocked. Certainly it's something that we have to get corrected in such a short amount of time because Huntington

Linsly Wins 10th Straight Crown

Ekanem, Allison each win OVAC tennis singles titles

WHEELING — Although rain moved the OVAC girls' tennis singles tournament inside at the Wheeling Park Bubble on Thursday, one thing did not change.

For the 10th time in a row, the Linsly girls captured the 1A-4A OVAC title after racking up 18 points — defeating runner-up Oak Glen by seven points (18-11).

St. Clairsville was third with six points. Leading the Cadets to a 10th straight crown was No. 1 Singles standout Rachel Ekanem, who defeated Wheeling Central's Danielle Agcaoli, 8-0, in the final round.

Ekanem was joined by teammate and No. 3 Singles champion Charlie Allison, who upended top seed Kassie Regules, 8-3, in the final.

"We had a great group of girls who are great to work with and they are really coachable," Linsly coach Dave Riethmiller said. "They would stick around after practice just to practice some more. They really love it and that's great to see. It's been really fun coaching these girls and I'm happy for them. "I never really thought about winning 10 in a row. I'm just blessed to have had a lot of good players over the years. That's the only way to do it."

Ekanem was on top of her game when it mattered most as she did not lose a single game in accounting for three 8-0 victories on the day.

Pens Top Caps in OT To Clinch Playoff Spot

WASHINGTON — Jake Guentzel scored his 22nd goal 2:11 into overtime to lift the Pittsburgh Penguins to a 5-4 victory over the Washington Capitals on Thursday night in a result that clinched both teams' place in the playoffs.

Guentzel's winner on a one-time redirection of John Marino's pass came after Washington's Tom Wilson forced overtime with 14.3 seconds to play.

The result, combined with the New York Islanders' regulation win over the New York Rangers, ensures both teams will be among the Eastern Division's four playoff teams.

"We're going to enjoy this one tonight," Penguins coach

Mike Sullivan said. "By no means are any of us satisfied — we understand there's a lot of work to do here."

"But we're going to take a deep breath tonight and enjoy it."

Kasper Kapanen scored his ninth and 10th goals of the season, Frederick Gaudreau added a goal in his return from injury and Zach Aston-Reese also scored for the Penguins, who have now won five of their seven meetings with the Capitals.

Colton Sceviour and Jared McCann each had two assists for Pittsburgh.

T.J. Oshie scored his 18th goal, Daniel Sprung added his fourth in three games. Dmitry Orlov also scored and had an assist for Washington before Wilson's late leveler.

Steelers Take RB Harris in Round 1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers are turning to Alabama star Najee Harris to give their running game a jolt.

The Steelers selected Harris with the 24th overall pick Thursday night, confident he can help a rushing attack that finished dead last in the NFL in yards rushing in 2020.

Harris ran for 3,843 yards and 46 touchdowns in four seasons with the Crimson Tide, including 26 last fall while helping Alabama to the national title. The 6-foot-1, 232-pound Harris is also a capable receiver out of the backfield, catching 43 passes for 425 yards and four touchdowns as a senior.

Pittsburgh is looking to maximize whatever time left it has with veteran quarterback Ben Roethlisberger.

The 39-year-old restructured his contract to ensure he would be back for an 18th season and Harris provided the opportunity to grab a player who could make an immediate impact.

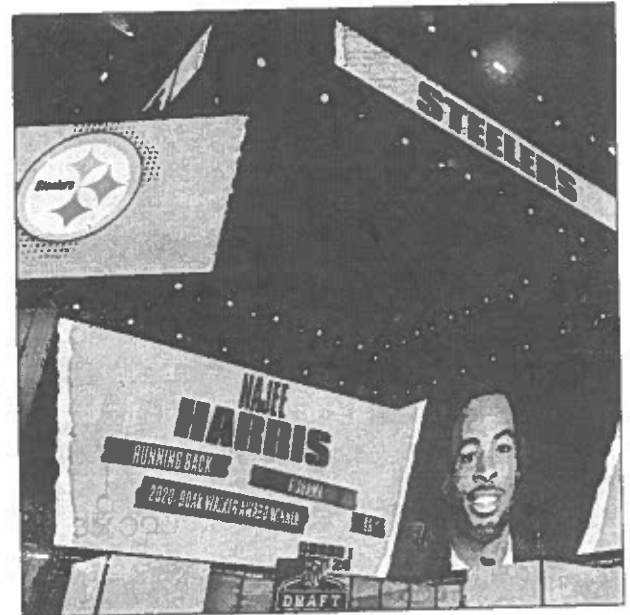

The Steelers went 12-5 last year but wilted down the stretch, dropping five of their final six, including a blowout loss to

“I just tried my best and always stayed positive no matter what,” Ekanem said. “I just knew we had a really good team and our teamwork is really good.”
Allison made her presence felt in No. 3 Singles in only her first season as a varsity tennis player.
“I was going to come out for the team last year but then COVID happened,” Allison said. “My mom loves tennis and about a year ago I started going with her to play and she really wanted me to play. I’m very competitive so I just wanted to come out and compete.”

Linsly’s Lily George captured a pair of victories before being eliminated in the quarterfinals and Kate Bondarchuk secured a first round win for the Cadets.
“Me and my doubles partner Lily George came to Linsly in fifth grade together as little girls and we wanted to finish our senior year together as doubles partners,” Allison said. “Coming into it I knew we had that expectation and I’m glad we could pull through and live up to the expectations.”

Morgantown was victorious in the OVAC 5A Tournament with Wheeling Park picking up runner-up honors 10 points behind (20-10).
Rachel Simon (No. 2 Singles) and Taylor Broadwater (No. 4 Singles) both reached the finals for the Patriots before falling to Morgantown’s Amy Lu (8-6) and Samantha Carver (8-1), respectively.
