

SPORTS

Tuesday,
June 7, 2011

AT LEFT: Buckeye Local's Brandon Borkoski awaits a pitch during the annual George Kovalick OVAC All-Star Baseball Game at Steubenville's Vaccaro Field. BELOW: Shadyside's Josh Kernik flips to first for an out during Monday's game. Ohio prevailed, 5-2.

Photos/BRENT SOBLESKI

OVAC All-Star Baseball

Ohio stars hold on

By JOSH STROPE
For The Times Leader

STEUBENVILLE — Big Red coach Fred Heatherington has been doing this a long time and he knows the biggest key to winning an all-star game is to be the team that has that one big inning.

Ohio got that with a four-run third, tacked on a run in the eighth, and used some dominant pitching and stellar defense to keep West Virginia at bay in a 5-2 victory in the 2011 George Kovalick OVAC All-Star Baseball Classic at Vaccaro Field.

"Our kids did a good job," Heatherington said. "There was a lot of camaraderie in the dugout, a lot of talking in the dugout. They played together and got to know each other. Hopefully they can make some friends out of this."

Steubenville was the top team all year around the valley and was represented by three players in Darin Heatherington, Jordon Meyer, and Anthony Pierro.

The Big Red trio went 0-for-6 on the day, but Meyer, who was awarded his plaque as the OVAC Class 4-A Player of the Year, made some very nice plays at second base to record outs.

After reaching base just once in the first two innings against Brooke flamethrower David Alward and falling behind 1-0, Ohio cracked the scoreboard in the third.

Bishop Donahue's Zach Whitfield walked St. Clairsville's T.J. Silva and Edison's Ethan Tice, followed by a single from Union Local's Ethan Tobin to load the bases.

The Red Devils' MacKenzie Koehler walked to bring in the first run for the Buckeyes.

Buckeye Trail's Luke Hastings broke the tie four pitches later with a single up the middle to score Tice and Tobin.

After a popup in foul territory for the first out, Indian Creek's Tim Newburn singled in Koehler for a 4-1 lead.

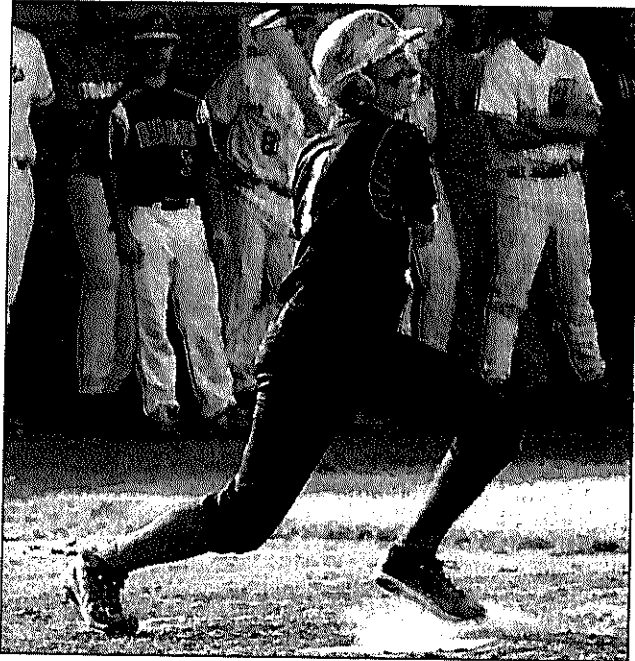

"We always tell our teams that the team that has the biggest inning is usually going to hold up and win the game," Fred Heatherington said. "(Monday) it did."

The Mountaineers, who scored in the second inning as Bishop Donahue's Jordan Angalich singled in Linsly's Derek Miller, cut the deficit in half in the fifth with as Alward scored Whitfield on an RBI groundout.

Newburn drove in Koehler, the winning pitcher, with a single in the eighth for an insurance run and a 5-2 lead.

After two strikeouts to begin the bottom of the ninth by Cambridge's Dakota Taylor, West Virginia was able to bring the tying run to the plate after Magnolia's Drew Simmons walked and Weir's Cody

See, OVAC, Page B2

Left: Tyler Consolidated's Zack Knowlton takes a cut during Monday's OVAC All-Star Game at Steubenville's Vaccaro Field. Right: Barnesville ace Tyler Kurtz delivers to the plate. Photos by Josh Strobe

Ohio Holds Down W.Va.

Four-run third key to Buckeyes victory

By JOSH STROPE
Staff Writer

STEUBENVILLE — Steubenville coach Fred Heatherington has been doing this a long time and knows the biggest key to winning an all-star game is to be the team that has that one big inning.

Ohio got that with a four-run third, tacked on a run in the eighth, and used some dominant pitching and stellar defense to keep West Virginia

OVAC All-Star Baseball Game

at bay in a 5-2 victory in the 2011 George Kovalick OVAC All-Star Baseball Classic at Vaccaro Field.

"Our kids did a good job," Heatherington said. "There was a lot of camaraderie in the dugout, a lot of talking in the dugout. They played together and got to know each other. Hopefully they can make some friends out of this."

Steubenville was the top team all year around the valley and was represented by three players in Darin

Heatherington, Jordan Meyer, and Anthony Pierro.

The Big Red trio went 0-for-6 on the day, but Meyer, who was awarded his plaque as the OVAC Class AAAA Player of the Year, made some very nice plays at second base to record outs.

After reaching base just once in the first two innings against Brooke flamethrower David Alward and falling behind 1-0, Ohio cracked the scoreboard in the third.

Bishop Donahue's Zach Whitfield walked St. Clairsville's T.J. Sliva

Please See OHIO, Page 16

OHIO

(Continued from Page 15)

and Edison's Ethan Tice, followed by a single from Union Local's Ethan Tobin to load the bases.

The Red Devils' MacKenzie Koehler walked to bring in the first run for the Buckeyes.

Buckeye Trail's Luke Hastings broke the tie four pitches later with a single up the middle to score Tice and Tobin.

After a popup in foul territory for the first out, Indian Creek's Tim Newburn singled in Koehler for a 4-1 lead.

"We always tell our teams that the team that has the biggest inning is usually going to hold up and win the game," Fred Heatherington said. "(Monday) it did."

The Mountaineers, who scored in the second inning as Bishop Donahue's Jordan Angalich singled in Linsly's Derek Miller, cut the deficit in half in the fifth as Alward scored Whitfield on an RBI ground-out.

Newburn drove in Koehler, the winning pitcher, with a single in the eighth for an insurance run and a 5-2 lead.

After two strikeouts to begin the bottom of the ninth by Cambridge's Dakota Taylor, West Virginia was able to bring the tying run to the plate after Magnolia's Drew Simmons walked and Weir's Cody Harmon doubled. But the rally ended there as Taylor got Valley's Alex Henderson to ground out to second.

During the game, Steubenville's Heatherington received his Coach of the Year plaque, as did Players of the Year Meyer, Magnolia's Justin Fox (AAA), Shenandoah's Brandon Starr (AAA), and Toronto's Tyler Butler (A).

In his final two innings wearing a Magnolia uniform, Fox struck out five.

Despite the loss, there were plenty of smiling faces in the West Virginia dugout. Many were happy to get to play in the game as their prep careers come to a close.

"It's a different perspective getting to play with guys that you are usually playing against," John Marshall's Matt Carnahan said. "To get to be able to play on the same side as them, it's really means a lot. There are some good players."

Added Alward: "It's an honor just to be picked in the game. It says you had a good year and got picked to play in a pretty prestigious game."

"We all played four years on varsity so it's hard to all of a sudden have to stop playing, but it was nice to play with everyone one last time."

COMING WEDNESDAY:
 Pirates take on the Diamond-backs

SPORTS

■ Post 740 preview	2
■ Pirates select Cole	3
■ OSU reviewing compliance	3

B

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 2011

Ohio tops West Virginia in OVAC game

By BRENT SOBLESKI
 Sports writer

STUEBENVILLE — The Ohio Valley Athletic Conference's best and brightest baseball talent was on display Monday at Vaccaro Field for its annual all-star gathering.

The 2011 George Kovalick OVAC Ohio/West Virginia All-Star Baseball Classic ended 5-2 in favor of the boys on the Ohio side of the river.

"Our kids did a good job," Ohio and Steubenville Big Red coach Fred Heatherington said. "We had a lot of camaraderie in our dugout. We had a lot of talking going on in there. It was good to see the kids play together and get to know each other. Hopefully, they can make some friends out of this, and they can go on from here."

Both sides had to deal with the unfamiliarity as old rivals became new teammates.

"It was fun to be around the rest of these guys to meet new people and play the game with everybody," Jordon Meyer, Ohio's Division II player of the year, stated. "It was fun."

His coach agreed. "It's a lot of fun for all of the coaches," Heatherington continued. "You get to meet new kids to see how they play and what they know. Maybe you can teach them a couple things so they can take it with them. It's good for all of the coaches."

Despite all of the talent on the field, and the multiple coaches from differing teams providing tips, the teams combined for 12 base hits.

West Virginia was finally able to break through with a run in the bottom of the second inning. It only added one more tally in the bottom of the fifth, during the nine-inning affair.

Overall, the Ron Ujcich-led team only managed five hits.

Brooke's David Alward was impressive on the mound to

Brent Sobleski

ALL STARS — The Ohio All-Star team, including Edison's Ethan Tice, Big Red's Darin Heatherington, Indian Creek's Tim Newburn and Adam Young and Big Red's Anthony Plerro leaves the field between innings during Ohio's 5-2 win over West Virginia in the 2011 George Kovalick OVAC All-Star Baseball Classic Monday at Vaccaro Field in Steubenville.

See OVAC Page 2B ⇨

Kramer retires from Madonna

By RALPH COX
 Sports correspondent

WEIRTON — Bob Kramer, the winningest coach in the more than 50 years of football at Madonna High School, has decided to step down.

Nearly 70 years old, Kramer has decided to call it quits primarily because his coaching staff was depleted because of work-related issues.

"Several coaches on my staff, including my son and others who have been with me for many years are unable to make a commitment to coaching football," said Kramer, who has a record of 110-35 as the Blue Don mentor. "I tried to find some coaches to replace them, but there just wasn't the right fit. I just felt I didn't have time to put a staff together with a similar philosophy about football that I have."

"And I'm not getting any younger myself. It is time to relax. My wife, Kathy, has supported me since we were married 25 years ago, and she retired from her job last year so there are some things that we want to do together."

Kramer said he felt it was the right time for him to step aside. He said he wanted to give Madonna time to get a new head coach and put a staff together.

The replacement that the Madonna administration

Meyer named Division II player of year

By BRENT SOBLESKI
 Sports Writer

STUEBENVILLE — Big Red's Jordon Meyer is as humble as he is talented on the baseball diamond.

Meyer was named the OHSAA Division II Player of the Year Monday, but if anyone had talked to him after the fact they would hardly know it.

"I was shocked," the soft-spoken Meyer divulged. "I wasn't expecting to win it at all."

Meyer was one the senior leaders of a Steubenville Big Red baseball team which finished as the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Class AAAA champions.

The team also finished one game away from competing in Columbus as final four participants for the state title. Instead, they became the District 7 runners-up, falling to Columbus DeSales.

This year's Big Red team was clearly special, and Meyer quickly acknowledged those around him.

"I feel great," the second baseman said. "I feel I got a lot of help from my teammates. We have

See MEYER Page 2B ⇨

Fred Younce

TOP PLAYER — Big Red's Jordon Meyer trots home after a home run early in the season. Meyer was named the OHSAA Division II player of the year.

Heatherington Division II coach of year

By BRENT SOBLESKI
 Sports Writer

STUEBENVILLE — Coaches often become pivotal pieces in the life of many young people. They can be disciplinarians, sounding boards, parent figures, educators and even friends to those they supervise.

Steubenville Big Red's baseball skipper, Fred Heatherington, is one of the best in the business, and he was acknowledged as such Monday. Heatherington was named the 2011 Ohio Division II Coach of the Year.

"It simply means you have good players," the coach said. "We had a great team that worked hard. That's why we were successful this year."

Heatherington has been at the helm at Steubenville for 23 seasons. His career actually belongs to our team. The way we worked and the way we played all season, until the end, shows you have a good team to be awarded as such."

One title which was not attributed at the beginning of the piece but can also be applied to Heatherington is father.

This season was made even more special when son, Darin, was counted among Steubenville's senior ranks.

It was clear, throughout the season, that the thought of losing this particular group was hard for the Big Red skipper. And this year's seniors were special.

"It was good," Heatherington said. "It was exciting. It was fun."

Big Red's season came to a close with a 10-8 defeat at the hands of Columbus-

Brent Sobleski

TOP COACH — Big Red coach Fred Heatherington speaks to his team

unable to make a commitment to coaching football," said Kramer, who has a record of 110-35 as the Blue Don mentor. "I tried to find some coaches to replace them, but there just wasn't the right fit. I just felt I didn't have time to put a staff together with a similar philosophy about football that I have.

"And I'm not getting any younger myself. It is time to relax. My wife, Kathy, has supported me since we were married 25 years ago, and she retired from her job last year so there are some things that we want to do together."

Kramer said he felt it was the right time for him to step aside. He said he wanted to give Madonna time to get a new head coach and put a staff together.

The replacement that the Madonna administration finds will have some football players to work with. There will be 17 lettermen returning including 13 seniors, but the Blue Dons also have an outstanding group

See KRAMER Page 2B ⇨

By BRENT SOBLESKI
Sports Writer

STUEBENVILLE — Coaches often become pivotal pieces in the life of many young people. They can be disciplinarians, sounding boards, parent figures, educators and even friends to those they supervise.

Steubenville Big Red's baseball skipper, Fred Heatherington, is one of the best in the business, and he was acknowledged as such Monday. Heatherington was named the 2011 Ohio Division II Coach of the Year.

"It simply means you have good players," the coach said. "We had a great team that worked hard. That's why we were successful this year."

Heatherington has been at the helm at Steubenville for 23 seasons. His career record includes 452 wins and 167 losses. His winning percentage tips the scales at a hefty 73 percent.

"We had great senior leadership," Heatherington credited. "I was just the fortunate one who reaped the award. I think the award actually belongs to our team. The way we worked and the way we played all season, until the end, shows you have a good team to be awarded as such."

One title which was not attributed at the beginning of the piece but can also be applied to Heatherington is father.

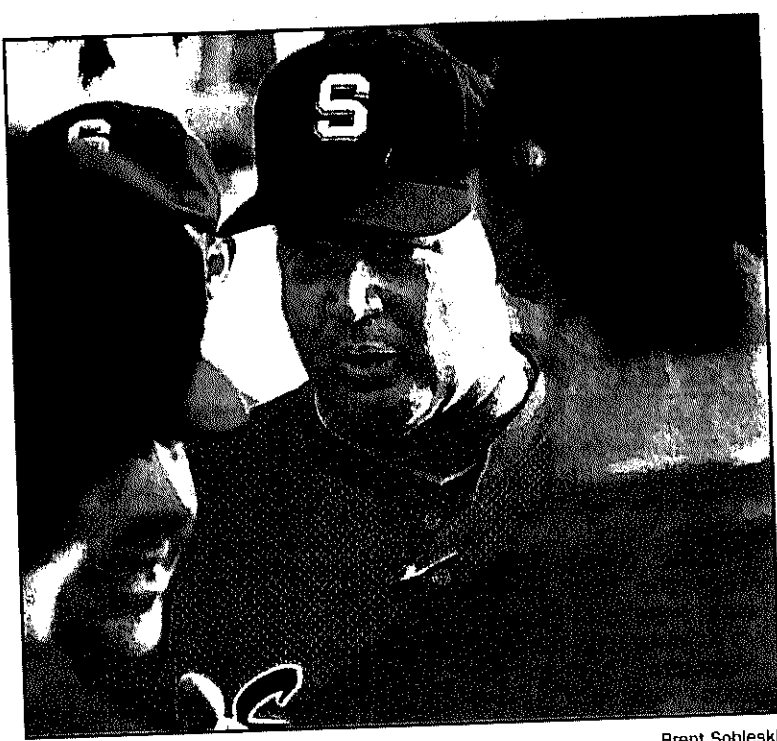

This season was made even more special when son, Darin, was counted among Steubenville's senior ranks.

It was clear, throughout the season, that the thought of losing this particular group was hard for the Big Red skipper. And this year's seniors were special.

"It was good," Heatherington said. "It was exciting. It was fun."

Big Red's season came to a close with a 10-8 defeat at the hands of Columbus-DeSales in the regional finals, but as a group the team accomplished plenty. In particular, the team finished first in the AP/Ohio Coaches poll in the regular season.

"We won a lot of close games," the coach said.

Brent Sobleski

TOP COACH — Big Red coach Fred Heatherington speaks to his team after a win during this season. Heatherington was named the OHSAA Division II coach of the year.

"When you win a lot of close games, that means you have a good team.

"We just didn't win the one we wanted. We had a great season, and the kids should be proud. We were OVAC champs. We were sectional and district champs. We were regional runners-up. At 21-2, you really can't complain."

Meyer

all worked so hard together. Coach Fred (Heatherington) pushed us every day."

Meyer proved to be a man of few words, but the same can't be said of his coach. Heatherington showered Meyer with praise.

"He is a great athlete and a joy to coach," the Big Red skipper exclaimed. "He worked hard every day. He's the first kid here and the last to leave. If he's not hitting the ball well, he wants extra swings in the cage. He got to where he is because of how hard he works.

"It's not that he worked harder than any of our other players, but his overall athletic ability was better than the rest. That didn't stop Jordan. Usually when you get a good player, sometimes they don't like to work. Sometimes they think they're too good to work. He never shied away from it. He deserves everything that is coming his way."

Meyer was a staple in the lineup. The team's No. 3 hitter often came through in clutch with multiple home runs, extra-base hits and RBIs.

If he came up to the plate in a crucial situation, the a favorable result seemed imminent.

"He was up in some big situations," Heatherington said.

"He made some great plays in the field, and he did a great job on the mound. We didn't want to pitch him, because we didn't want to take him off of second base. We had to put him wherever we could to win the game. He did the job."

Meyer will now make the transition to the collegiate level playing baseball in hopes of also studying sports management.

Continued from Page 1B

Kramer

of sophomores who were undefeated as eighth-graders.

Several of those sophomores were in Madonna's starting lineup last season when the Blue Dons posted eight wins in 11 games.

Kramer took the head job at Madonna 13 years ago. His teams won a Class A state championship in 2009 and were runner up in 2004 and 2008. The Blue Dons have been in the state playoffs the last four years in a row and made it to the elite 16 in seven of Kramer's 13 years.

Kramer began his coaching career in 1974 at Aquinas School in the old Steubenville Parochial League. He was there 12 years and moved up to become the first head coach of the Junior Crusaders in 1986. He held that job for six seasons before moving up to the high school level at Toronto.

After two years as an assistant of the Red Knights, Kramer joined Kent Kidder's staff when he was named the head coach at Madonna in 1993. After three years, Kidder was replaced and Kramer sat out a year from coaching.

He got back into it in 1996 as an assistant on the staff of Rich Saccoccia at Steubenville Catholic Central and returned to Madonna as head coach in 1998.

"I have a ton of great memories," said Kramer. "It is hard to put into words how it's been to coach at Madonna. I'm so grateful for the support from the administration and were certainly had a lot of great kids.

"Some of the things that stand out was winning the state championship by 27-7 over Man in 2009. That is one score that I never will forget."

Kramer said that beating

Williamstown in the playoffs in 2004 when they were number one in the state was a great memory along with finally being able to defeat Wheeling Central.

"I've had a lot of great memories and I wouldn't change a thing, he said. "There are so many people that I owe so much to including my wife who has supported me for the past 25 years of our marriage. I'm trying to get in touch with a lot of those people, but it will take a while for me to get around to all of them."

Kramer has received numerous awards for his coaching success including being named Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Coach of the Year five times, coaching the 2009 West Virginia team in the OVAC All-Star game, receiving the Carl R. Hamill Award at the 2009 Upper Ohio Valley Dapper Dan dinner and several other coach of the year honors. He is a 1960 graduate of Steubenville High School, where he played football. He lives in Steubenville and retired from Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. in 1998 after a career of 34 years. Kramer has a daughter, Linda and son, Robert.

Continued from Page 1B

OVAC

start the game for West Virginia, and he provided the initial fireworks with an RBI double.

Bishop Donahue's Jordan Angalich singled home the team's final run.

Weir's Cody Harmon

also provided a double.

"That was a great ballgame," Ujcich said. "There was some great pitching. There was some timely hitting on Ohio's part. We needed a few key hits we didn't get. That's just the nature of the game. An experience like this is great."

Whereas the Ohio squad was able to put up a crooked number in the third frame scoring four of its five runs in the frame.

"We always tell our team that whoever scores the most runs in one inning is probably going to hold up and win the game," Heatherington said. "If you can get a big inning, it's probably going to outscore the other team.

"Today it did."

Indian Creek's Tim Newburn was the leader at the plate for the Ohio team. Newburn singled twice to bring two runs past the plate. Buckeye Trail's Luke Hastings also accounted for two RBIs. St. Clairsville's MacKenzie Koehler brought the final run home.

"We tried to give everybody the same amount of playing time and then have the team bat one through 20," Heatherington said of his lineup. "If someone got three at-bats, then they got three. I think everyone played equal time, and that's what you try to do.

His counterpart was quite excited after the game. The outcome was inconsequential.

"This is a great experience for the kids and the coaches," Ujcich said. "We had a great group of kids this year. We just talked about having fun and enjoying yourself. This was the last chance for them to play high school baseball and maybe baseball period. There was a great chemistry in the dugout.

"These kids were just great.

"They were willing to play positions they never played before. We stuck a kid at third base that never played there. They just wanted to play. They wanted to have a good time. It's all about the kids."

Ohio 5, West Virginia 2
Ohio 004 000 010 - 571
West Virginia 010 010 000 - 250
OHIO - Starr (2K, 1BB), Kurtz (3) (5K, 1BB), Koehler (5) (WP, 1K, 1BB), Newburn (6) (1K, 0BB), Kernick (7) (1K, 1B), Taylor (9) (2K, 1BB) and Butler, Jellison, Borkoski, Koehler 1B, RBI; Hastings 1B, 2RBI; Newburn 2-1B, 2RBI.
WEST VIRGINIA - Alward (3K, 1BB), Whitfield (3) (LP, OK, 3BB), Polanski (3) (1L, 0BB), Patrick (4) (1K, 0BB), Miller (7) (OK, 0BB), Fox (8) (5K, 0BB) and Carnahan. Alward 2B, rbi; Angalich 1B, RBI; Harmon 2B.

Continued from Page 1B

MOUNTAINTOP GOLF

OVERNIGHT LODGING PACKAGES
STARTING AT $119!

Includes: Lodging • Breakfast and a round of golf

Price per person, based on double occupancy.

866.437.1300 | 7springs.com
You Really Should Be Here!

OVAC baseball stars vie Monday

By RICH GIBSON
Times Leader Sports Writer

Steubenville's Vaccaro Field is host for Monday evening's annual OVAC All-Star Baseball Game. First pitch for the nine-inning contest is 6:30.

As usual, Monday's game matches the valley's finest prep seniors in a Ohio vs. West Virginia format. Admission at the gate is: Adults ($6) and Students ($4). Concessions are available throughout the evening.

Game director Perry West has requested all participating players arrive at the game site no later than 5 p.m. for pre-game workouts.

Several special recognitions are scheduled between innings during the evening, including former coaches who have made outstanding contributions to OVAC baseball. They are: Mike Rose (Bridgeport High); Harry Bush (River High); and Ken Campanizzi (Martins Ferry High).

Steubenville Big Red's veteran coach Fred Heatherington will be recognized as the OVAC's 2011 Baseball Coach of the Year.

Additionally, Mark McCarty is being honored for achieving 300 career victories while at Morgantown and Preston High Schools.

The OVAC will also acknowledge four players of the year in each class. They are: Toronto's Tyler Butler (Class A); Shenandoah's Brandon Starr (Class AA); Magnolia's Justin Fox (Class AAA); and Steubenville Big Red's Jordan Meyer (Class AAAA).

The Ohio coaching staff includes Steubenville Big Red's Fred Heatherington, St. Clairsville's Tom Sliva, Harrison Central's Dane Morgan; and Fort Frye's Sonny Bidwell.

Guiding the West Virginia stars are Brooke's Ron Ujcich, Wheeling Park's Chad Stout, Bishop Donahue's Dan Angalich, and Cameron's Eric James.

Rosters for Monday game follow:

OHIO ALL STARS

Tyler Kurtz, Barnesville; Brandon Borkoski, Buckeye Local; Luke Hastings, Buckeye Trail; Cody Morris, Caldwell; Dakota Taylor, Cambridge; Ethan Tice, Edison; Mark Rogers, Edison; Tim Newburn, Indian Creek; Adam Young, Indian Creek; Josh Kernik, Shadyside; Mackenzie Koehler, St. Clairsville; T.J. Sliva, St. Clairsville; Brett Farnsworth, Shenandoah; Brandon Starr, Shenandoah; Darin Heatherington, Steubenville; Jordan Meyer, Steubenville; Jo Jo Pierro, Steubenville; Tyler Butler, Toronto; Myron Jellison, Union Local; Ethan Tobin, Union Local.

WEST VIRGINIA ALL-STARS

Jordan Angalich, Bishop Donahue; Zach Whitfield, Bishop Donahue; David Alward, Brooke; Billy Perkins, Brooke; Kyle Wales, Brooke; Jimmy Higginson, Cameron; Dalton Kuhn, Hundred; Matt Carnahan, John Marshall; Logan Patrick, John Marshall; Jon-Michael Brunner, Linsly; Derek Miller, Linsly; Justin Fox, Magnolia; Jordan Moore, Magnolia; Drew Simmons, Magnolia; Brian Highfield, Oak Glen; Martin Mazezka, Oak Glen; Garrett Ames, Tyler Consolidated; Zack Knowlton, Tyler Consolidated; Alex Henderson, Valley; Cody Harmon, Weirton; Brandon Polanski, Wheeling Park.

Gibson may be reached at rgibson@timesleaderonline.com

Bankruptcy...

ATTORNEY
JEFF BROWN

(740) 282-1911

OVAC All-Stars To Take Field Monday Night

By RICH GIBSON
For the News-Register
STEUBENVILLE —

Vaccaro Field will play host to Monday evening's annual OVAC All-Star Baseball Game.

First pitch for the nine-inning contest is 6:30.

As usual, the game matches the valley's finest prep seniors in a Ohio vs. West Virginia format. Admission at the gate is: Adults ($6) and Students ($4). Concessions are available throughout the evening.

Game director Perry West has requested all participating players arrive at the game site no later than 5 p.m. for pre-game workouts.

Several special recognitions are scheduled between innings during the evening, including former coaches who have made outstanding contributions to OVAC baseball. They are: Mike Rose (Bridgeport); Harry Bush (River); and Ken Campanizzi (Martins Ferry).

Steubenville Big Red's veteran coach, Fred Heatherington, will be recognized as the OVAC's 2011 Baseball Coach of the Year.

Additionally, Mark McCarty is being honored for achieving 300 career victories while at Morgantown and Preston High Schools.

The OVAC will also acknowledge four players of the year in each class. They are: Toronto's Tyler Butler (Class A); Shenandoah's Brandon Starr (Class AA); Magnolia's Justin Fox (Class AAA); and Steubenville Big Red's Jordan Meyer (Class AAAA).

The Ohio coaching staff includes Heatherington, St. Clairsville's Tom Sliva, Harrison Central's Dane Morgan; and Fort Frye's Sonny Bidwell.

Guiding the West Vir-

PREP BASEBALL

ginia stars are Brooke's Ron Ujcich, Wheeling Park's Chad Stout, Bishop Donahue's Dan Angalich, and Cameron's Eric James.

Rosters for Monday game follow:

OHIO

Tyler Kurtz, Barnesville; Brandon Borkoski, Buckeye Local; Luke Hastings, Buckeye Trail; Cody Morris, Caldwell; Dakota Taylor, Cambridge; Ethan Tice, Edison; Mark Rogers, Edison; Tim Newburn, Indian Creek; Adam Young, Indian Creek; Josh Kernik, Shadyside; Mackenzie Koehler, St. Clairsville; T.J. Sliva, St. Clairsville; Brett Farnsworth, Shenandoah; Brandon Starr, Shenandoah; Darin Heatherington, Steubenville; Jordan Meyer, Steubenville; Jo Jo Pierro, Steubenville; Tyler Butler, Toronto; Myron Jellison, Union Local; Ethan Tobin, Union Local.

WEST VIRGINIA

Jordan Angalich, Bishop Donahue; Zach Whitfield, Bishop Donahue; David Alward, Brooke; Billy Perkins, Brooke; Kyle Wales, Brooke; Jimmy Higginson, Cameron; Dalton Kuhn, Hundred; Matt Carnahan, John Marshall; Logan Patrick, John Marshall; Jon-Michael Brunner, Linsly; Derek Miller, Linsly; Justin Fox, Magnolia; Jordan Moore, Magnolia; Drew Simmons, Magnolia; Brian Highfield, Oak Glen; Martin Mazezka, Oak Glen; Garrett Ames, Tyler Consolidated; Zack Knowlton, Tyler Consolidated; Alex Henderson, Valley; Cody Harmon, Weir; Brandon Polanski, Wheeling Park.