Welcome to this year's third annual

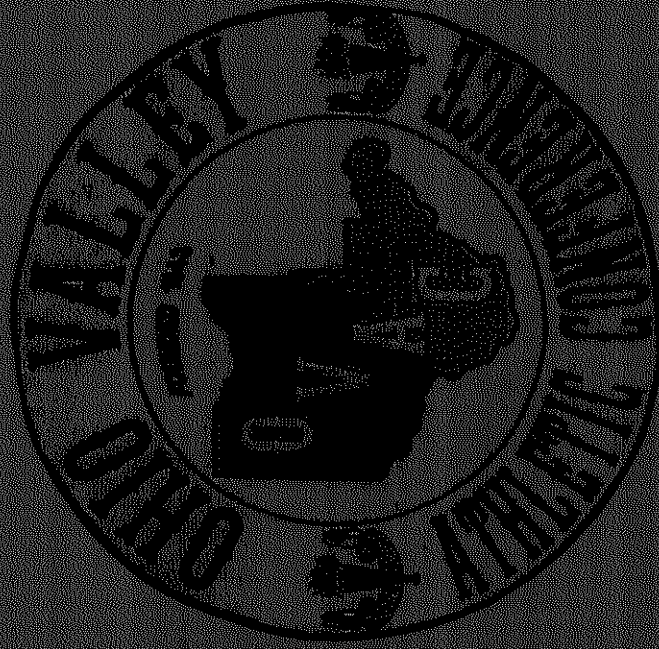

OVAC All-Star Match. The Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Volleyball All-Star game was established in 2000 by Tom Suriano and Kim Frawersa. The idea is to bring together the most outstanding volleyball players in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference from both Ohio and West Virginia.

There are 28 Ohio schools and 14 West Virginia schools represented in the OVAC. Only 16 young ladies of all-star caliber, from their perspective school and state, are nominated and voted on by coaches to become an All-Star player.

These young ladies come together to perform and demonstrate their talent as well as represent their school as an All-Star.

We congratulate these fine student-athletes and wish them the Best!
